NEW SECT ATTRACTING ATTENTION IN SOUTHERN INDIANA.

It Started in Washington County and Several Churches Split by the Recent Desertions.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 14.-A new sect or religious organization has made its appearance in this part of the State, and is fast gaining popularity. In Washington county, where numerous meetings have been held by the propounders of this doctrine, two or three old established churches have been broken up by the desertion of members, and the influx into the ranks of the new denomination. The sect has assumed the name of the "Saints" to distinguish themselves from the other religious denominations. Their teachings are strange and possessed of enough of the requisites of a religious creed to cause hundreds of converts to flock to them. By some they are termed "Evening Light," but the name of "Saints" seems the more appropriate, and by it they are almost entirely known.

They profess to be guided entirely by the Bible and their services consist in reading extracts from the various books. Another peculiarity is that under no circumstances will they enter into a disucssion with any nonbeliever regarding their doctrines, but merely designate for perusal those portions of the Bible on which their faith is founded. They believe in three sacraments, communion, baptism and feet washing. They discountenance any display in dress, the use of tobacco and coffee, do not wear jewelry, and have for both the male and female members a kind of hat, known as the "Saints' hat," which is as plain as can be secured. The ministers do pot ask to be remunerated for their services, and aim to live simply on what is volunteered for their support. One more peculiarity is the fact that they never fail to apoint the head with oil when a person confesses and signifies a desire to accept their teachings. Each member obligates himself to look into his past life, and if at any time he should have wronged any one owing any bills which should have been paid, he must make all the reparation possible, even to the extent of beggaring him-self. The consideration of self is the last thing to be looked after. The writer's attention was called, a few days since, to a prominent farmer of Washington county, who was converted by the preachings of one of these self-styled ministers, and, accordingly, became very devout. Being met in Salem a few days later by a friend, he informed him that it was his business in the town that day to pay up several debts which he had owed from five to ten years. He had also that day drawn from a local savings association a sum of money which he had loaned that institution some time previous. His reason for so doing was that he could not conscientiously accept of the large interest on his loan which had been paid him, as he was fearful of violating the law of usury. The teachings are so strange and unial that wherever the Saints hold a meet-

Congressman Morse Congratulated on All Sides-Application for a New Trial at Once Made.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.-The celebrated suit of $25,000 damages brought against Congressman E. A. Morse, of Canton, Mass., by Mrs. Helen M. Gougar, the temperance and woman suffrage advocate, of Lafayette, Ind., terminated to-night in a victory for the defendant. The jury, after being out one hour and forty-five minutes, rendered a verdict of acquittal. Hon. Harvey N. Sheppard, Mrs. Gougar's counsel, immediately made application for a new trial. Congressman Morse was congratulated on all sides, and he cordially invited the jurors to call on him if they should ever go to Hon, Joseph H. Manley, of Maine, was an interested spectator when court opened today. Mr. Morse greeted the Republican chairman warmly and escorted him to a seat near Mrs. Gougar. After an hour spent in arguing points of law, ex-Governor Robinson proceeded to address the jury on behalf of the defendant. He said that if everbody noticed the things said during all political campaigns there would be nothing but libel suits against half of the papers in the country. He referred to the Maine campaign, and to the unpleasant things said about the President of the United States, none of which, he said, were made grounds for libel suits. Why the Ex-Banker Attempted to Get Possession of His Son Clarence.

WEBSTER, Mass., Sept. 14.-Ferdinand Ward, the ex-banker, who is charged with the attempted abduction of his ten-yearold son, was seen to-day by a reporter, to whom he related his version of the affair. He stated that while he was in Sing Sing prison his wife made a will bequeathing her entire estate to their son Clarence, and naming Mr. Ward's brother as guardian of the child. Before Ward's release Mrs. Ward died, and Ward's brother, being on an extended European tour, the property went into the hands of a public administrator, who immediately named F. I. Green, of Thompson, Conn., as guardian, allowing him about $2,000 a year for the boy's support and education. Upon his release from Sing Sing Ward was notified by Green that he might have possession of the boy, but he was not then situated so that he could give him a suitable home. Later, however, when he had settled in Brooklyn, where he is now employed as an accountant, he sent for his son, and Green flatly refused to give up the boy. Ward has made repeated attempts to secure Green's consent, but, having failed in these, and being determined to get the child in his own hands, he planned and helped to execute the abduction, which would give him what he claims is now the legal right, the guardianship of his son. The property, amounting to over $75,000 at the time of Mrs. Ward's deam, was placed in control of the Holland Trust Company, of New York, and still remains there. Ward declares that he will continue his efforts to secure possession of his son until he is successful. trator, who immediately named F. I.

AFTER OREGON BANKS.

Pennoyer Says They Cannot Run the State of Which He Is Governor.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 14.-An informa tion with interrogatories and an order of court made by Judge Stearns have been served on a number of banks in this city by District Attorney Hume, appearing for the State of Oregon. The information purports to be issued by direction of Governor Pennoyer. It alleges that the banks for the past seven years have received divers and sundry deposits, the depositors of which died intestate, in this State, and that the deposits have escheated to the State of Oregon; that in order to recover said escheated property it is necessary to institute actions at law. Governor Pennoyer "The instructions given by me are the district attorney to file a bill of discovery requiring bank officials to answer certain interrogotories. I was compelled by law to move, and no trifling will be allowed in regard to the matter. If the courts issue definite orders and bank officers disregard them they must be punished, and if there is no law sufficient to compel the answer, I will ask the next Legislature to enact one. If, however, the courts trifle with the law by not stip-ulating a definite and limited time, I will ask the next Legislature to remove the recalcitrant judges from office. The law must be enforced. The banks may run the federal government, but I do not propose that they will run the State of Oregon as long as I am Governor." It is understood that twenty-seven banks in this district have been served with notice and others throughout the State will receive similar Children of a Canal Tender Said to Fe Heirs to a Big Chicago Estate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. - The boatmen along the Chesapeake & Ohio canal are agog over the windfall which it is said has come to the children of George W. Seamon, a lock tender on the canal. They, with Mrs. M. P. Rice, the wife of a local photographer, are said to be among the principal heirs of John McCaffrey, an aged capitalist, who died in Chicago the past summer, leaving an estate of about $600,000. McCaffrey, it is said, was a canal boatman living at Hancock, Md., in 1852, when he married for the third time a woman named Graham, who had some money. It is alleged that he deserted her after getting some of her money. His children by his everal marriages scattered, and now ocwidely different social positions. One er, and another of photographer Rice. Now word has been received from Chicago that McCaffrey amassed a fortune there and that the children he left behind are the heirs. Attorney Crafts, of a well-known 11linois firm, is here investigating the matter of kinship to McCaffrey.

BROTHERS FIGHT A DUEL.

One Dies from His Wounds and the Other Has No Chance of Recovery.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 14.-News omes from North Portland of a fatal due which occurred near that place to-day, between John and Alexander Tyler, brothers. Both were prominent planters, and their plantations adjoined. They quarreled a few days ago about the location of a line fence and to-day when they met in the road, the difficulty was renewed. Hot words were followed by blows and finally both drew pistols and began firing at close range. They continued shooting until both had emptie their revolvers. John was wounded three times and Alexander received two bullets. The former died soon after being moved to his home and the other has no chance for recovery. The only witnesses to the deadly duel were the two little sons of the dead an, who were in a buggy with him when the firing began and escaped by hiding themselves under the seat.

WIFE MURDERER SHOT.

Four Ballets from Winchester Rifles Pierced His Heart.

LEHI, U. T .- Enoch Davis, wife murderer, was executed by being shot to-day. He chose this mode of execution in preference to hanging. Six deputies each armed with Winchesters were stationed in a tent not far from the prisoner. About thirty officers and reporters were present, but no ministers. At 10:40 Davis was placed in a chair with a plank at its back. The doctors pinned a black mark over the heart. At 10:43 the marshal cried, "Make ready! take aim! fire!" Six shots rang out, Davis moved slightly and at 10:45 gasped faintly. Death was practically instantaneous. Four balls perforated the paper. Davis killed his wife June 6, 1892, beating her over the head with a revolver.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 14.-The campaign for the Democratic congressional omination in the Ashland district closed to-night and everybody is anxiously awaiting the result of the primaries to-morrow. Colonel Breckinridge's friends are confident of winning and the Owens men are equalsanguine of victory.

Last night Breckinridge issued a final nanifesto in which he charged Owens with living in a glass house socially in addition to gambling and other vices. To-day Mr. Owens said he did not see how any decent man could now vote for Breckinridge, after such a cowardly attack as had been made on him. "I am." said he, "more confident than ever of victory to-morrow. Such methods as are being practiced by Breckinridge and his henchmen can only help Startling stories are being told here of the efforts of Breckinridge people to register men in the precincts of the county who have no right whatever to vote. The Owens men say it is a desperate effort to steal the county, but declare it will fail."

Thirty-five of the best women in Lexington met at the opera house this morning and decided to invite the ministers of the city to meet with them to-morrow and pray for the defeat of Breckinridge. They denounced as untrue the story that they had withdrawn their support from Mr. Owens. The women were out all over the Breckinridge district to-day urging voters on for to-morrow's primaries. Their presence had much to do with preventing fights. They will be in the field again to-

A special prayer meeting was called at the Episcopal Church here to-night, at which divine guidance was asked in the coming elections. Evangelist Rev. H. C. Morrison addressed a demonstrative political meeting of Owens men, proclaiming that the Lord was on their side. The ballots have been printed and distributed, the election officers have been notified of their duties from headquarters, the checks have been cashed and the money divided and sent through the districts. The best work on election day, on all sides, will be done in this city. The prospects are that it will be give and take all day long. There does not seem to be any chance for fraudulent voting or false counting, as each candidate has a representative as an election officer. The best politicians are behind Ereckinridge, and all of the known methods for vote making are being employed by them. They are working as though it were a matter of life or death, and concede that the influence of the ladies is their greatest difficulty.

Forecast of the Result. LAGRANGE, Ky., Sept. 14 .- The Ashland district is boiling hot to-night. The canvass that will close to-morrow will find Breckinridge, his friends claim, in the lead, a winner by from 1,800 to 2,200 votes over Owens, who is in the lead for second place. This prediction of the success of Breckinridge over Owens is based on the following: In Queen and Henry counties Breckinridge will have a majority of fully 2000 over Owens; Oldham will be a stand-off; Franklin will give a majority of not over 50 for the one who will carry it. Owens will carry Scott by 1,600 votes. Bourbon will give Breckinridge 150 majority. Woodford will be a tie, or pretty nearly so, and this will leave to Fayette the duty of choosing the man and Breckinridge's majority in that county will be from 1,300 to 1,700. This estimate is made on a conservative basis and with all doubt given to Owens. Settle will poll many votes in the district. Owens and Henry will give him a good vote and Oldham will honor him with at least one-third of her 900, and he will get quite a complimentary vote in Fayette.

There he will rest. CLOSE OF THE CAMPAIGN. Breckinridge and Owens Speak-Latter Denies Charges.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 14 .- Both Owens and Breckinridge closed here to-night, Breckinridge speaking at the courthouse and Owens at the opera house. The Breckinridge forces made a big parade and démonstration, having several bands and a drum corps. breckinridge's speech was simply an arraignment of Mr. Owens, repeating his charges and criticising Owens's denial. The opera house was full, the principal speech being made by George C. Lockhart, of Paris. Mr. Owens denied in bitter terms Breckinridge's charges that he is a broken-down gambler, and that he was put out of a Louisville hotel.

A conference was held by Mr. Owens's friends to-day, and an additional statement to that made last night was given out. The statement is an emphatic denial to all of Breckinridge's charges. Mr. Owens says over his signature: "It is significant that Breckinridge could obtain only the affidavit of Mr. J. A. Elliott to substantiate even the semblance of his charge, and I invite any intelligent person to the character of the affidavit of Elliott It bears all the earmarks of what the lawers term a 'cooked' affidavit, and upon its face is unworthy of the respect of any one. Elliott, under the pressure evidently placed upon him, could not say that he knew me personally, and if he knew me at all his knowledge is such as shows him to be certainly an unreliable witness. ] dismiss this charge which Breckinridge has harbored for months with the contemp that both he and it merit. Gentry and the stallion record of 2:04 by Joe Patchen; the marvelous mile by a two-year-old pacer, done by Carbonate to-day in 2:09 and his previous record of 2:10 tied by Directly. That is why the town is wild with enthusiasm to-night.

ROBERT J.'S GREAT MILE. Geers was up behind Robert J., and at the second trial, the word was given. The clip was so fast that the pacemaker fell behind, the first quarter being done in 30% seconds Up the hill the king of pacers went at even a faster gait and was at the half in 1:00%. Down the third quarter the unbeaten gelding came like a whirlwind, 2914 seconds marking his time for that quarter, and he was at the three-quarters' pole in 1:3014. making the middle half in 591/2 seconds. Geers with rein and voice gently urged the gelding, who came true and strong, never for a moment wavering under the terriflo trial, and a moment later Geers landed Robert J. under the wire in 2:0114. Pandemonium broke loose. Men shouted themselves hoarse, tossing hats and canes in the air; women set aside dignity and waved handkerchiefs and parasols to the helody of their more resonant at There were cheers for horse, for driver and for the owner, Mr. Hamlin. Geers was lifted from the sulky and carried up the stretch on the shoulders of admiring friends. Starter Loper made the announcement of what had been done and the renewed cheering caused President Ijams, of the Terre Haute association, to shout: "The Terre Haute track needs no cheers; it is always in it." Moore cheering followed and some one proposed three cheers for President Ijams, which were given.

Scarcely less marvelous was the performance of two-year-old pacer Carbonate. A half hour before his only rival, Directly, had gone to lower the 2:10 mark made by Carbonate on Wednesday. But the fast son of Direct could do no better than tie care about your country is to know whether you are going to let my wool into your market or not." The conditions in it. Then came Carbonate, the son of Superior. He did the first quarter in :31½, went to the half at a 2:03 clip, doing the half in 1:03½. In the third quarter he was going at a 2:06 gait, doing the third quarter in :31½. His tender mouth caused him to falter when Curry took the reins to reef him. It was but for a moment and again he was away, landing the heat in 2:09 flat, owering the world's record for two-year-

The marvellous mile of John R. was in the opening heat of the free-for-all pace, carried over from Wednesday. When he did the mile in 2:03% he robbed Joe Patchen of much glory. Some caught the mile as fast as 2:03%, and it is believed that had the pace maker gone after the black five-year-old a little harder the Ashland Wilkes horse would have done the mile in as good as 2:03. mile in as good as 2:03. . When Joe Patchen was brought out was no longer king of pacing stallions. though his time in the famous 2:021/2 heat with Robert J. at Indianapolis was 2:021/4. his mark still stood at 2:06. Gentry had set a new stallion mark at 2:05%, and the Patchen Wilkes horse would have to do a phenomenal piece of pacing to regain his honors. The best he could do was 2:04, making the fourth heat in that time on this track, Nancy Hanks, Mascot and Alix hav-SORROW FOR SWEET ALIX. There was great disappointment over the Alix performance. With so perfect a day and track it was thought the mare could make a new world's record for trotters. But she had tied the Nancy Hanks mark on Wednesday, and it was too much to make a second effort the same week. Besides she seemed nervous. She did not get away strong, taking 311/2 seconds to do the first quarter. When the half was reached in 1:02% the crowd dropped back resignedly. The down-hill third quarter was the same time as the second. Then hope was abandoned by the silent crowd On she came at a still slower rate, doing the mile in 2:041/2. When the time was hung up there was not a cheer. When the wonderful mare, second to no trotter on earth and a twin queen, came back past the stand she was comparatively unnoticed, although she was really entitled to great credit, considering the miles she has made this year, and especially in 2:04 here only two days ago. Further than that she has done what Nancy Hanks was never able to do. She has trotted within a half second of her record, while the best Nancy ever
